Wah Chang Founders In Gale Off Shantung Promontory

FOREIGN VICTIMS

Two Officers Of Vessel Bound For Shanghai Are Missing

Twenty-eight men, two of them foreigners, are missing and are believed to have been drowned as the result of the foundering of the steam schooner Wah Chang off Shantung Promontory in the gale which also drove the China Merchants steamer Hsintau on the rocks at Shihtao, near Chefoo, on November 4.

News of the Wah Chang disaster was made public yesterday when relatives of the supposed victims of the wreck besieged a shipping agent's office in Hankow Road and demanded compensation. Officers of the Central Police were called to the scene and succeeded in quieting the turbulent Chinese by the appointment of an arbitration board which is to make its report this morning at 9 o'clock.

BOUND FOR SHANGHAI

The arbitration is to be between the board and Ah Man, the boarding master who signed on the crew, arrangements for compensation having been made with him and not the agents. It is understood that the boarding master offered the families of the missing men $100 each but that they were not satisfied with the amount and sought to take up the matter directly with the agents.

The Wah Chang, which was of 1500 tons burden, was bound from Chinwangtao to Shanghai with a cargo of coal.

On November 3 she encountered the fatal gale and fought through it for about 24 hours. Then she sprang a leak and went down.

FOREIGNERS MISSING

Captain O. Jorgensen, a Norwegian, and Chief Officer Bachman, a Lett, with 26 Chinese sailors embarked in the ship's longboat and eleven other members of the ship's company took their departure from the sinking vessel in a dory.

The longboat has not been sighted since.

After a day and a night of terrible experiences on the storm-tossed seas the dory was picked up by the Japanese steamer Yama Mitsu Maru, which took the survivors to Dalney. They were brought to Shanghai by the steamer Wanli.

After failing to make terms with the boarding master a mob of relatives of the missing sailors yesterday repaired to the agent's offices in Hankow Road and created a disturbance.

POLICE ARE CALLED

More than 50 women and a number of men were in the crowd and the din they created was so great that Detective Sergeant M. E. Ashley and two assistants were called to the scene. Sergeant Ashley attempted to disperse the crowd but the disturbance was so great that it was necessary for him to call on Sub-Inspector W. Abbott for assistance. Inspector Abbott, accompanied by two Sikhs appeared on the scene and the rioters were quieted.

IN GOOD REPAIR

The Wah Chang was a Japanese wooden ship built two years ago. She was purchased recently by Dong Ting Kee, iron merchants, 11 North Soochow Road. She was in excellent condition, it is stated, having been overhauled in dry dock immediately before embarking on her final voyage.

HSINTAH IS WRECKED

The China Merchants Navigation Company steamer Hsintah, which was driven on the rocks at Shihtao, near Chefoo, in the same storm, was badly damaged. The captain and chief officer of the ill-fated steamship remained at Shihtao while the rest of the crew returned to Shanghai yesterday on the Kungping. The Hsintah sank after 56 passengers had been transferred to another steamer. The mast and bridge are above water. Salvage work will proceed as soon as tugs and lighters from Shanghai reach the scene.

International Court Advocated In League By Argentine Envoy

Lord Robert Cecil Declares Organisation Has Clearly Refuted Charges That It Cannot Be Successful

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Nov. 17, (via Bordeaux).—The following is the text of the official communique of todays proceedings of the League of Nations Assembly:

The Assembly this morning commenced the discussion of the report on the work of the Council of the League since last January.

Senor H. Pueyrredon (Argentina) delivered an important address on the attitude of Argentina, which country, he said, had always laid strict insistence on the principles of the Law of Nations. Senor Pueyrredon recalled Argentina's attitude of "diplomatic belligerency" during the German submarine war, and her promise of assistance to Uruguay, in the event of aggression by the German communities in Brazil.

Argentina, he said, was convinced of the power the League of Nations would wield by the incorporation of all States, which would thus have to submit to the discipline of international obligations.

REGRETS U.S. ACTION

The Argentine representative expressed regret at the absence of the United States from the Assembly, and the hope that a formula would be found which would permit of that country's collaboration in the League.

Argentina, continued Senor Pueyrredon, desired that all members of the League Council should be elected by the Assembly, in order to establish a democratic regime in the international sphere. The Great Powers who were at present permanent members of the Council would undoubtedly be re-elected by the other nations, who found them to possess the capacity, based on experience and strength, to secure the realisation of the common task.

Argentina advocated compulsory arbitration except in questions affecting a nation's political constitution.

WANTS NATIONS COURT

She further advocated an International Court of Justice, with compulsory jurisdiction, based on the principle of equality of States. Argentina looked forward to the creation of a permanent organisation for economic co-operation and international mutual support. In social questions she advocated international co-ordination of Government action.

"This task," concluded Senor Pueyrredon, "requires unselfishness on the part of all and a supreme effort especially for the future."

M. Hagerup (Norway) declared that Denmark, Norway and Sweden desired that the Assembly should control the Council. He paid a tribute to the Council for its successful pioneer work.

VERY MUCH ALIVE

Lord Robert Cecil (South Africa) said the report constituted a complete reply to those who said that the League was dead. The report showed that the League was very much alive. The first year of the League had clearly been devoted mainly to the dry work of organisation. Now the machine was working.

There were those who complained because the League was costing half-a-million sterling a year, but, Lord Robert Cecil pointed out, the war cost twenty millions a year.

"Half-a-million a year," he said, "is a good insurance.'

Examining the constructive work accomplished, Lord Robert Cecil praised the organisation of registration and the publication of treaties, but urged fuller publicity for the sessions of the Council.

After making an appeal on behalf of martyred Armenia, and a request for complete publicity on the subject of the Polish-Lithuanian dispute, Lord Robert Cecil paid a tribute to the League for the success of the Financial Conference at Brussels the results of which he said, were enormously important. In this connection he recalled the resolution passed at Brussels in favor of reduction of armaments.

REFERS TO SMUTS

Referring to his own personal position as South African representative, Lord Robert Cecil said he had been appointed by General Smuts, the Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa. He pointed to the fact that he

Salvation Army Barred By Japanese Police From Street Meetings

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, November 17.—The Yamato reports that the police have forbidden the holding of open-air meetings by the Salvation Army.

The police are investigating the "Army's" preachings, apprehending that there may be disturbing elements at work under the cover of Christianity.

The Yamato quotes the chief of the Foreign Bureau of the Metropolitan Police as saying that the recent disorders would have been impossible if the Salvation Army had been preaching only the gospel of salvation, that, on the contrary, its conduct had been more political than religious lately, and that the authorities possessed evidence of this and were prepared to take steps if necessary.

FRANCE DENIES POLE-LETT PACT ON LITHUANIA

Matter Will Be Left To League Of Nations For Final Decision

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, November 17.—A Bolshevist radio message announces that a secret treaty has been negotiated between Poland and Lettonia, under the auspices of France, for the division of Lithuania.

This information is utterly groundless. The French Government, it is semi-officially announced, has no knowledge of any treaty to divide Lithuania. It has always recommended the adjustment of the problem by the League of Nations, and the Polish Government, as is already known, has given its support to this proposal.

Belgian Cabinet Not Yet Formed

(Reuter's Service)

Brussels, November 16.—M. Carton de Wiart having not yet succeeded in forming a new Cabinet, the Chamber has adjourned until a week from today.

SPECIAL ELECTION FOR COUNCIL ON DECEMBER 9-10

All New Members Must Go Before Ratepayers; Two Resignations

An election of five Municipal councillors to be elected for the remainder of the municipal year, 1920 will take place on December 9 and 10.

The election is necessary because three of the present members of the Council, Messrs. H. H. Girardet, E. F. Mackay and Dr. S. A. Ransom were not elected in February last but were co-opted to fill vacancies which arose through resignations.

Land Regulation No. XX provides that "should the vacancies exceed three, an election of the whole number of new members who have not been originally elected shall be called in the manner previously provided for by Article XVIII."

This regulation becomes operative now because of the resignation of Mr. W. P. Lambe, on his departure on home leave tomorrow, and because of the impending departure of Mr. D. Goh for Japan for reasons of health.

The co-opted members whose names are mentioned above will stand for election for three out of the five vacancies.

Britons And French Are United Against Return Of Constantine

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, November 17.—It is stated that M. Rhallys will probably accept the invitation to form the new Greek cabinet, while it is reported that M. Venizelos will leave the country.

(U. S. Naval Radio)

Lucrene, November 17.—Ex-King Constantine made his first statement today concerning his attitude toward the Greek election, to the local correspondent of the Associated Press, he said:

"I cannot go to Athens and head any political party, therefore I insist upon a plebiscite for my return or the return of one of my sons."

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, November 17.—It is stated in British official circles, writes the Eclair, that Great Britain will be no more ready than France either to tolerate the return of ex-King Constantine to the Greek throne or to approve any candidate who has the sympathy of the ex-King's supporters.

Constantine, it is felt, is just as much animated by German sympathies as he was before his downfall.

Paris, November 16.—It is stated from Lucerne that great excitement reigns in the hotel ex-King Constantine is living with ex-Queen Sophia, Prince Paul and their suite.

Athens, November 16.—Anti-Venizelists here opened fire on their political opponents today, killing two children. Troops were called in and ended the disturbance.

Books Of Rail Line In Canada Altered, Is Charge

(Reuter's Service)

Ottawa, Nov. 16.—The Registrar of the Exchequer Court, who is examining the affairs of the Central Railway Company of Canada, expresses doubt if the alleged deliberate tampering with the Company's books at the instance of the President, Mr. Armstrong, has ever been paralleled in Canada. He mentions that a debit entry of $229,000 had been changed into a credit entry.

Pope Benedict XV

CATHOLIC people throughout the world will unite in prayer today for the well-being and intentions of Pope Benedict XV, who celebrates the 66th anniversary of his birth. There will be no special services at local Catholic churches.

Giacomo Della Chiesa, the present head of the Catholic Church, became Pope in 1914 after the death of Pius X. He has been a popular as well as a highly revered head to the Roman Catholic Church and many anecdotes have been related of him to illustrate his democratic attitude and unfailing good nature. Recently, on the occasion of the visit of a large delegation of American Catholics, he opened the Vatican gardens to motion-picture operators and himself took a leading part by posing, first with groups, and then for "Close-ups," smiling into the camera at short range while the Vatican officials looked on with dismay.

Army Training Plan For France Effective In 1922

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, November 17.—At Tuesday's cabinet meeting the principle of an eighteen month's period of military service appeared to have won the unanimous support of the members of the French Government, but it is understood that the new law will not come into effect until 1922.

The French press announces that, contrary to the rumors that have been in circulation, M. Andre Lefevre, Minister of War, has no intention of resigning.

DYES GIVEN ALLIES BY PEACE TREATY FIGURE IN COURT

Suit Here Involves Cargo Received By Reparations Committee From Germany

German dyes turned over to the Allied Reparations Committee as part of Germany's war indemnity figured in a case heard yesterday in the Mixed Court, bringing up a point of interest to commercial men all over the world.

The case was one in which a Chinese, Chow Shao-yuin, was charged with frauduient use of a registered trade mark, thereby injuring the business of a Chinese firm known as Chong Sing and Co. The complainants are Messrs. J. Lambooy and Co., a Dutch firm.

Both a criminal and a civil action had been brought by the complainants and the case was heard by American Assessor Tenney, Dutch Assessor Daniels and Magistrate Kwan, who ruled, at the conclusion of yesterday's hearing, that the criminal action should be dismissed and the civil case adjourned.

Mr. P. W. Goldring appeared for the plaintiffs and Dr. H. C. Mei for the defendant, while Mr. E. B. Rose watched the case in the interests of the du Pont Company.

COMMERCIALLY IMPORTANT

Mr. Goldring at the beginning of the hearing stated that the case was one of great interest to the commercial community and made application for an adjournment on ground that he was waiting for documentary evidence of his clients' right to the trade mark—which is known as the "Horse and Lion" mark. The motion was opposed by Dr. Mei, and after further argument Mr. J. C. Dupuy, one of the partners in Lambooy and Co., was put on the stand and gave testimony regarding the firm's right to the "Horse and Lion" trade mark, for aniline and indigo dyes,

SEMENOFF IN TRUCE WITH REDS ON BORDER

Chinese Authorities Acting As Mediators In Hope Of Peace

RUSS REVIVAL

Former Premier Declares People Are Tired Of Bolshevist Rule

(Staff Wire To THE CHINA PRESS)

Peking, Nov. 18.—Fighting between the Reds and the Semenoff Partisans was stopped on the evening of November 16 after a flag of truce was raised by the Semenoff men. The Chinese authorities on the border are acting as mediators.

Mr. Obata, the Japanese Minister, has left an aide memoir with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in reply to China's reply to the Nikolaivsk demands. It strongly controverts the refusal of the Chinese Government to apologise after admitting that her naval commander was in the wrong. It requests the Government to reconsider the reply.

Mr. Pan Fu, the Vice-Minister of Finance, will leave for Tientsin tomorrow to convene a conference of Chinese bankers with the view to discussing the possibility of forming a Chinese bankers' group to finance the government in its present shortage of funds.

(Reuter's Service)

Peking, Nov. 18.—Sun Lien-chun reports that Ataman Semenoff's forces have defeated the Reds in the vicinity of Hapitsuli, inside the Mongolian border, near Manchuli.

NEWSPAPER BOMBED

Harbin, November 17.—Last evening an unknown individual bombed the offices of the newspaper Zaria. He escaped, and has not yet been arrested.

It is rumored that this is the first act of a period of terroristic activity in connection with events in Transbaikalia. It is believed to be an act of vengeance on the part of victims of the paper's frequent sensational disclosures.

It is reported from Manchuria Station that the Chinese will not hinder the approach of the Reds to the frontier as long as they do not attempt to cross it.

It is rumored that Colonel Isome has succeeded in arranging a five days' armistice.

LACK MUNITIONS

(U. S. Naval Radio)

London, Nov. 17.—According to a wireless message received here from Warsaw a strong Bolsheviki offensive is developing along the entire Volhynian front. The Ukrianians are unable to offer any resistance because a lack of munitions and supplies prevails.

Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—An interview which General Wrangel had with a correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger on November 6 at Sebastopol was published here this morning.

General Wrangel praised the heroic work of his army, which "without clothing and lacking all the necessary material" faced the numerically superior army for ten days, and blames the powers for non-interference.

"Poland," he said, "whom we saved from annihilation, by drawing to our front five armies, concluded peace and the Great Powers observed our defeat without interfering."

(Reuter's Service)

NOT DOWNHEARTED

Paris, November 17.—The Petit Parisien announces that General Wrangel has arrived at Constantinople. Forty thousand refugees from Sebastopol are reported to have already arrived at Constantinople.

Paris, November 17.—Prince Lvoff, former Premier of Russia, and M. Maklakoff former Russian Ambassador, are issuing from Paris an appeal to all Russians not to allow themselves to be discouraged by the defeat of General Wrangel.

"The struggle against the Bolsheviki will be continued," they say. "Already the peasants are everywhere raising the standard of revolt against the tyranny of the Soviets; their devotion must be encouraged and it will deliver Russia from the yoke of its oppressors."

French Council Halts Public Utilities Conference

Until Mr. L. Laforest, manager of the French Tramway Company, is empowered by his Paris office to discuss proposed extensions and make all decisions without referring to the home office there will be negotiations between the company and the French Municipal Council.

The Council has already delivered the ultimatum that efficient and adequate tramway service and light and water supply be furnished by the company and extensions be made to provide for present and future needs, with the alternative of the municipality taking over the company. The company has until December 9 to take action.

Correspondence between Mr. Laforest, engineer in chief and manager of Compagnie Francaise de Tramways et Eclairage Electrique et des Eaux and the French Municipal Council is published in the Bulletin Municipal, issued yesterday.

Writing to the Council under date of October 26, Mr. Laforest stated that he had information from Paris giving in detail the extensions planned. After writing that he expected the program would entirely satisfy the council and cause reconsideration of its previous decision he requested an interview.

Mr. Laforest appeared at a special meeting of the Council held on October 29. According to the French Municipal Council Bulletin: "He was asked by the president if he had the necessary power to discuss the proposed scheme and make all decisions without referring to Paris.

"The director replied that he had neither the power to comment on or discuss the expansion program nor the power to advise the Council of the entire text of his information from Paris. He added that he was going to telegraph to Paris for authority to communicate to the Council the entire contents of the cablegram which tells of the extension program."

Gaston, Williams And Wigmore Are Sued By Former Manager

Mr. F. G. Boulon, former manager of the Shanghai branch of Gaston, Williams and Wigmore, who is facing charges of embezzlement made by that firm in the United States Court for China, filed a civil suit against the company yesterday seeking to recover Gold $15,000 and Shanghai Taels 14,220 that he alleges are owing to him.

Following the filing of the charge of embezzlement—in a sum aggregating Tls. 25,000—a protracted hearing recently was completed before U. S. Commissioner F. J. Schuhl and the outcome of this was that Mr. Boulon was held for trial before the United States Court for China by the Commissioner at a bond of the figure originally fixed Tls. 10,000. The date of the trial has not been set, but it will probably be started before Judge C. S. Lobingier next week.

ASKS ACCOUNTING

In the petition filed yesterday by Mr. Boulon through his attorney, Mr. R. S. Haskell, he recites that he was employed by the company on October 22, 1919, as manager of the branch at Shanghai at a salary of Gold 7,500 a year at a tael rate of 70 with an expense allowance of Tls. 1,000 a year and a certain commission. The contract, the petition sets forth, was for a term of service of one year but was extended in a letter until November 30, 1920.

The petition sets forth that "the plaintiff has an account with the defendant for salary unpaid, commissions unpaid, profits unpaid and loans unpaid, which account is offset by numerous advances made by plaintiff on account of the said items; that said account covers a long period, is complex and contains information unknown to the plaintiff, which plaintiff must discover in order to determine his claim."

LOANS ARE ALLEGED

As the first item of indebtedness Mr. Boulon alleges that Tls. 4,880.95 is due on account of salary unpaid. It is further alleged that he believes that Gold 15,000 is owing on account of commissions earned and it is further alleged that Tls. 964 is due for money loaned about May 1, 1920. Other loans the plaintiff alleges he made to the company and which he says are due include Mex. $1,400, said to have been advanced June 8, 1920 and Shanghai Taels 12,000, alleged to have been advanced June 25, 1920.

In addition to these sums said to be owing the petition sets forth details of no less than ten exchange contracts said to have been entered into on behalf of Mr. Boulon by the company with various banking houses, all of which yielded large profits, said to remain unpaid.

CLAIMS BALANCE DUE

The petition says that "as against credits in favor of the plaintiff at this time unknown to the plaintiff, plaintiff has drawn about the sum of Tls. 25,303, that the sum of Tls. 12,250 was paid to Yea Kong Yung by the defendant in error; that to the best of the plaintiff's information and belief there is a balance of about Gold $15,000 and Tls. 14,220 due and owing."

The petition asks for an accounting of salaries, commissions, loans advances and other credits.

Dyes Given Allies By Peace Treaty Figure In Court

which he said had been registered with the Customs for nearly 20 years. It had been brought to his notice that others were using that chop and he had seen empty casks being put into a godown for refilling.

Cross-examined by Dr. Mei, the witness admitted that he had been representing a German firm since September 1919 and that he had not yet received full power of attorney. Questioned by the Court he said he had not the documents giving sole right to the trade mark. Dr. Mei then applied for dismissal of the case and the ruling was made.

At the close of the hearing Mr. Rose said that he would like to make a statement.

REQUIRED UNDER TREATY

The dyes in question, he said, were a part of certain dyes required by the Reparations Committee under annex 6 of the Treaty of Peace of Versailles between the Allies and Germany. They had been disposed of through various channels and those involved in the present case had been exported to China by American firms who disposed of them to Chinese dealers. The original chop of the German firm was on the dyes."

The complainant had stated, Mr. Rose said, that he was the agent and holds authority for an existing German firm. From this fact it was clear that the question which the Court had to decide was whether or not Germany, or a German firm, might deliver certain cargo to the Reparations Committee—and they to dealers—and then prevent the final disposal of the cargo in the markets of the world on the ground that it was an infringement of trademark and trading privileges.

SAYS EXCHANGE OFFERED BRIBE FOR ITS PERMIT

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, November 16.—A merchant of Shanghai named Pao Jenche has laid evidence before Wang Nai-ping, Minister of Agriculture and Commerce, to the effect that several officials of the Ministry were offered a bribe of $5,000 worth of shares in the Shanghai Chinese Chartered Produce and Stock Exchange on condition that they would secure the registration of the exchange in the Ministry. The Ministry had previously refused to register the institution.

The bribery charge has placed the Stock Exchange, which is already under heavy attack in its home province, under a further cloud.

International Court Advocated In League By Argentine Envoy

was present there today in place of General Smuts, a former enemy of Great Britain; as an example of international reconciliation.

In conclusion he urged the Assembly not to shrink from strong measures of pacification and reconciliation.

At the afternoon session, the six Commissions elected their Presidents; namely: Mr. Balfour, Signor Tittoni, M. Leon Bourgeois, Senor Quinones de Leon, M. Huneeus, and M. Branting. The following were elected Vice-Presidents: Dr. Wellington Koo, M. Take Jonescu, Senor Costa and Senores Restrepo, Blanco and Aguero.

LATINS IN MAJORITY

New York, Nov. 17.—American press correspondents at Geneva, commenting on the election of Presidents and Vice-President of Commissions in the Assembly of the League of Nations point out that Latins are in a large majority, but they emphasise that this does not mean a predominance of Latins in the League.

The correspondents express the view that France will probably dominate the Assembly, counting on the support of a number of small Central European States and many South American Republics, although the speech of Senor Pueyrredon, the Argentine representative, is taken as indicating that Argentina favors the entry of ex-enemy powers into the League a contingency which could, in any case, only occur after lengthy discussion and negotiation.

Italy is not expected to side with France on a number of subjects, the correspondents say, although M. Viviani and Signor Tittoni are evidently agreed upon the expediency of a conservative policy.

Geneva, November 17.—At Tuesday's meeting of the General Assembly of the League of Nations, the chief speakers were: M. Viviani, M. Leon Bourgeois, Lord Robert Cecil, Signor Tittoni and M. Branting.

Germans Charged With Vote Fraud In Upper Silesia

Paris, Nov. 17.—The Excelsior points out that the Germans are stopping at nothing in their efforts to carry the election in Upper Silesia by trickery.

They are attempting chiefly to secure identification papers of deceased Silesians, for distribution among Germans living in other districts who, by means of this subterfuge, may be enabled to take part in the balloting.

"That's a nice property of Smiths! It's worth something today!"

The answer to those questions is the answer to the question: "Is REAL ESTATE A GOOD, SAFE INVESTMENT?"

France And Britain To Unite To Make Germans Pay, Northcliffe's View

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Nov. 15.—The newspapers are devoting much attention to an interview with Lord Northcliffe, which has appeared in the Journal des Debats. Lord Northcliffe stated:

"The French and British peoples have often experienced considerable difficulty in understanding one another's ways. Their frames of mind are different, and yet, Britain and France are indispensable to one another."

Lord Northcliffe admitted that France was paying rather too much for British coal, and discountenanced the policy of placing her in this respect on the same footing as certain neutral countries, whose attitude had been rather ambiguous during the war.

Regarding the question of reparations from Germany, Lord Northcliffe stated:

"A great deal of trouble may be expected unless France stoutly maintains her viewpoint. Germany," he said, "can and shall pay. Moreover, the British people has so decided."

Lord Northcliffe expressed the hope that at the next conference, France would show unshakable firmness in "standing by her British friends, who cannot forget her five years of intense suffering."

He added that whereas her best industrial and agricultural districts would take years to reconstruct, the fact remained that Germany stood quite untouched.

Tls. 400,000 Action Before British Court

Mr. J. A. Hayes Seeks Injunction Against Property Disposal

A case involving Tls. 400,000 was heard in the British Supreme Court yesterday when an injunction against the disposal of property was sought by Mr. J. A. Hayes, sharebroker, against the firm of Davies and Brooke.

The property mentioned consists of four British Consular lots and one French Consular lot, beneficial interests in which are attributed to Kwauh Yui-tsen, a former Chinese opium dealer against whom a judgment in favor of Mr. Hayes had been given in the Mixed Court. Mr. D. McNeill, appearing for Mr. Hayes, stated that, following speculations, Kwauh owed his client nearly Tls. 400,000. He read the Mixed Court judgment, which instructed the Registrar to order Davies and Brooke to assist in the matter of Kwauh's property held by them, and said that they held it impossible to do so without the sanction of an order of the British Court.

Mr. Hayes gave testimony, as did Mr. Davies and another member of his firm and Judge Skinner Turner said a judgment would be given Saturday, an interim order to protect defendants to be made meantime. Mr. Lipson Ward appeared to represent the plaintiffs and Mr. S. H. McKean on behalf of two Chinese who are interested in the property as beneficial owners.

Get More Iron Into Your Blood

If you are weak, anemic, run-down and constantly exhausted. The trouble with thousands of people in this condition is that their blood is simply starving for want of iron, and they don't realise the true cause of their disorders. Nuxated Iron, by enriching the blood and creating thousands of new red blood cells, often quickly transforms the flabby flesh and tasteless tissues of weak, run-down, anemic men into a healthier and stronger condition. Among the 3,000,000 annual users of Nuxated Iron, many report astonishing results in a very short time and in frequent instances it gives renewed strength and endurance to anemic men in a two weeks' course. Dr. Kenneth MacAlpine, prominent New York Surgeon, says: "In my opinion, Nuxated Iron is the most valuable tonic, strength and blood builder any physician can prescribe. In 16 years as professor in the New York Post Graduate Hospital I have never had recourse to so efficacious a remedy for building up the health and strength of debilitated, convalescent patients." Nuxated Iron is dispensed by all good druggists. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

REST FOR MOTHERS

How many babies wake up just about the mother's bed-time and keep her busy for a good part of the night. The mother may not see anything apparently the matter with the child, but she may depend upon it that when baby is cross and sleepless there is something wrong, and the little one is taking the only means he has of telling it.

Under such circumstances Baby's Own Tablets are just the friend needed. They contain no opiates, but send baby to sleep simply because they remove the cause of his sleeplessness and make him feel well and comfortable. They are recommended for teething troubles, constipation, diarrhoea, colic, fever, indigestion and worms; they promote appetite and regular development.

Sold by chemists, or by mail at 40 cents the vial, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

Simmons Company Is Named In Suit

Suit to recover Taels 3,788.55 and Gold $7,200 from Thomas W. Simmons and Company was filed yesterday in the United States Court for China by Chu King-sien. The plaintiff alleges that under an agreement dated July 10, 1919 he was employed to act in the capacity of compradore at Tientsin for a term of three years at a salary of Tls. 250 a month and commissions. A clause of the alleged contract was that it could be terminated by either party at six months notice.

The plaintiff asserts that he was dismissed from service without adequate notice on October 27 at a time when he says the sum of Tls. 2,288.55 was due to him on current account. In his action he asked for this sum together with salary for six months, amounting to Tls. 1,500. He is represented by Messrs. Teesdale, Godfrey and Newman.

An Everyday Fact—Not a Theory

A finish best serves its purpose when made in a particular way for a particular surface. To that end, the Sherwin-Williams Co. has studied surfaces, the kind of wear they get, the use they serve, and made a special product for each.

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINTS & VARNISHES

COVER THE EARTH

A Finish For Every Surface

Take S-W Scar-Not, for instance.	A varnish for interior woodwork and furniture must stand excessive wear; hot steam from radiators; hot gas from grate fires; and when applied to a table, the splash of hot water or the scorching of hot plates. Scar-Not is made to meet these conditions, and it does.
Again, take S-W Mar-Not for floors.	Floors present another kind of wear—more severe than any other inside surface gets. Mar-Not is made to stand walking, dancing, sweeping and scrubbing, and it does, too.
Then, Aluminum and Gold Paints, for radiators.	These paints must endure heat, keep their brilliance and adhere to the metal. They do, admirably.
Flat-Tone and Old Dutch Enamel.	For walls and white woodwork respectively, serve their particular purpose as no other varnish or enamel can do.

FIGHT ON OPIUM URGED BY POLICE

Commissioner McEuen, In Report, Says Drastic Action Is Necessary

Drastic action in the way of searching trains and boats coming here and strict Customs examination of incoming passengers are urged by Commissioner of Police K. J. McEuen, in his October report, in which he charges that present efforts to suppress opium are farcical.

The report says: "The number of cases which come up month after month and the quantity of opium seized by the Police and the Customs in this port alone—a very small percentage of what is actually smuggled—show how futile are the efforts made to suppress the evil.

SMUGGLE LARGE QUANTITIES

"China, who first advocated its suppression, has displayed the utmost laxity in the supervision of poppy cultivation and the manufacture of the drug, and recent cases show that large quantities are smuggled into the Settlement by train and steamer, and, if any headway is to be made, point to the necessity for some drastic action in the way of searching trains and boats, and steamers making use of public and private jetties, and strict Customs examination of people coming from these trains and vessels.

"It is also essential that proper supervision should be maintained in the western provinces of China where the drug has been proved to come from. At present the efforts made to suppress opium are a pure farce.

SMOKING STILL PREVALENT

"Opium smoking is almost as prevalent now as before prohibition came in, and there appears to be no difficulty in obtaining the drug whenever required.

"With the smuggling of opium an increase of crime is noticeable—robbery, extortion, bribery and corruption are rampant, and the so-called evils of the drug are in the opinion of many not comparable with the evils which have arisen through the half-hearted action taken to suppress the cultivation and manufacture of the drug."

Washington, November 17.—Strong pressure is being brought to bear for the recognition of Mexico.

PLAN STEEL PACT

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 13 (delayed).—The report of an American-Continental steel combination, hostile to Great Britain, is contradicted.

However, it is stated that an international agreement, which includes British works, is under discussion. The opinion is expressed that the proposal to maintain prices by an international agreement is not likely to be realisable.

CONDUCTED BY DUDLEY BURROWS

FOREIGN BASKETBALL LEAGUE ORGANISES; EIGHT TEAMS TO CONTEST FOR 1920 TITLE

Assignment Committee Names Personnel Of Four Outfits—American And Public School, Rowing And Columbia Country Clubs Will Enter Strong Teams

By Dudley Burrows

Prospects are exceedingly bright for an eight-team Foreign League of basket-ballers, following a meeting of the Assignment Committee of the League—composed of Messrs. C. D. Giauque, R. B. Nichols, H. E. Marsden, Percy Haskell, Dr. C. G. Irons and V. S. Dawson—held in the rooms of the Shanghai Y. M. C. A. on Thursday evening.

The Committee has named the personnels of four—known, respectively, as "Reds," "Greens" "Whites" and "Blues"—while the American School, Public School for Boys (foreign), Columbia Country Club and Shanghai Rowing Clubs will enter teams composed of their students or members and promise to set a hot pace for the other members of the League to follow.

It is hoped to formally open the 1920 season one week from tomorrow night. The Schedule Committee—Messrs. McCloy, Bartlett and Kline—is now hard at work and expects to have the completed schedules ready within the next few days.

Meanwhile tomorrow evening commencing at 8:30 o'clock, the "Greens" will oppose the "Reds" in a friendly practice contest, to be followed by a similar game between the "Whites" and the "Blues." The players assigned to the various teams are as follows:

Greens.—J. E. Jackson (acting Capt.), P. Westaway, Chas. Kline, V. E. Scott, J. H. Snooke, G. D. Maloney, F. Dintz, E. C. Hisken, F. L. Tinkham.

Reds.—C. H. McCloy (acting Capt.), E. J. Anderson, R. F. Wilner, H. S. Meshorer, Dr. Gray, Cy Wilhoit, R. A. Christy, Mr. Rothman, W. D. Wilson.

Whites.—C. W. Petitt (acting Capt.), Dr. C. G. Irons, J. H. Geldart, Mr. Ladd, E. Kelhofer, G. Tuttleman, H. E. Davis, Mr. Williams.

Blues.—Percy Haskell (acting Capt.), W. W. Bartlett, R. P. Roberts, S. F. Aubrey, P. M. Anderson, C. E. Moss, W. Gray, J. H. Hayes.

The "acting captains" will perform their duties as team-leaders until the various organisations can be consolidated and can elect their own captains.

The Columbia Country Club is planning to put a strong aggregation on the floor, tentative selections for which are as follows:

R. B. Nichols (acting Capt.)—V. S. Dawson, J. K. Gold, H. E. Marsden, E. Meyerink, F. C. Noble, Mr. Wythe.

C. D. Giauque, president of the League, will probably head the Public School team. This being the first year of basketball for the school, it is felt that the boys will need a good husky mainstay, whom they will certainly have in the person of the former Oberlin College athlete. The rest of the School line-up has not yet been definitely decided upon.

Mr. Giauque, in addition to playing with the public school, is planning a training class for referees, who will have charge of the League contests.

The line-up of the Rowing Club five is not yet available.

Refuses $400,000 For Man-O'-War

Philadelphia, Oct. 14.—"There is not enough money in existence to take Man o' War out of the United States."

This was the declaration with which Samuel D. Riddle, owner of the mighty stallion which conquered Sir Barton in the $75,000 match race at Windsor, Canada, last Tuesday, greeted the crowds that gathered at Glen Ridde, today to meet him and his party upon their triumphant return.

Following this statement Mr. Riddle announced that he had refused an offer of $400,000 for the famous horse from a would-be purchaser, who wanted to use him in Canada for breeding purposes.

SHARKEY BEATS FRENCH BANTAM IN FAST CLASH

Ledoux, With Carpentier In Corner, Fails Against New York Italian

Jack Sharkey, sensational little west side Italian, added the name of Charley Ledoux, France's sterling bantamweight, to his list of victims recently at Madison Square Garden, New York. The two clashed in the principal fifteen-round bout before a crowd which comfortably filled the arena, and Sharkey pummelled his little foreign rival in every one of the fifteen rounds and easily earned the award. Only the remarkable gameness and stamina of Ledoux kept the sturdy little French boxer on his feet to hear the final clang of the gong.

At the final bell Joe Humphreys stepped into the ring and after receiving the decision slips which the judges had handed up to Referee Bill Brown, announced that the winner was Sharkey. A din of applause which shook the building greeted the award. This manner of announcing decisions has been in use for the last two weeks, although there is nothing which could recommend its retention. Spectators do not know whether the judges award the verdicts or whether there is a disagreement between them and a referee's decision. In view of Sharkey's pronounced display of superiority it was presumed that the judges agreed on the little Italian.

CARPENTIER IN CORNER

Not even the expert advice of Georges Carpentier could bring victory to little Ledoux. The French heavyweight was in his countryman's corner as a second, and, peeling off his hat and coat, worked hard on Ledoux between rounds, meanwhile administering advice. When Carpentier's presence became known early in the ring the crowd yelled for his formal introduction from the ring. The conqueror of Levinsky stepped through the ropes while the gloves were being laced on the fighters and received loud applause, which drowned out a scattering undercurrent of hissing and booing.

The bout was replete with exciting moments. They were for the most part produced by the spectacular work of Sharkey, but the gameness of Ledoux supplied the necessary essentials to make an interesting bout despite Sharkey's unquestionable lead in points. Sharkey took every round of the fifteen, but he found Ledoux a worthy foe and one capable of assimilating punishment. Sharkey battered his rival about the ring under a heavy attack of rights and lefts, but Ledoux stood up under the punishment and at the final bell was swinging lustily at Sharkey in a hot mix-up in the middle of the ring, landing with cleaner blows than his rival.

LEDOUX IN DANGER

In the second round it looked like curtains for Ledoux. Sharkey continued his whirlwind assault, and under a shower of rights and lefts to the jaw rushed Ledoux to the ropes. There Sharkey pinned his opponent and smashed a right to the jaw which sent Ledoux down for a count of two. Arising, the French boxer was dizzy, but Sharkey was wild and too eager in his

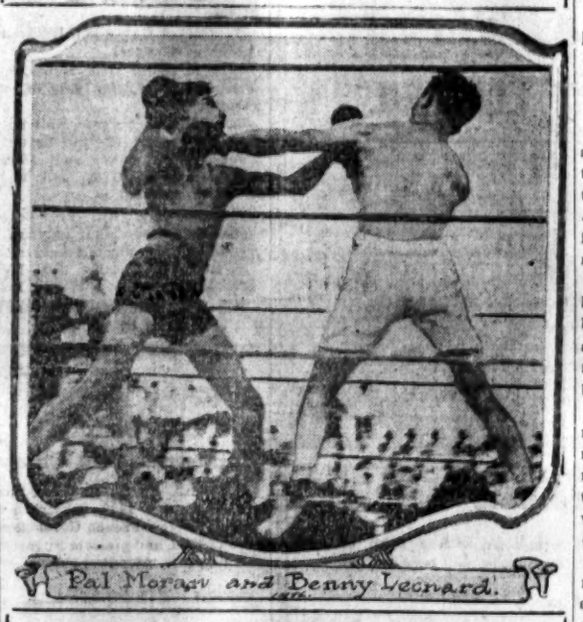
Lightweight Champ Adds Kelly To List Of Victims



(U. S. Naval Radio)

New York, November 17.—Benny Leonard won a technical decision over Harlem Kelly here tonight. The referee stopped the fight in the fifth round after Kelly had been severely punished.

Benny Leonard didn't knock out Pat Moran, but that was about the only thing he didn't do to the New Orleans Italian in their ten-round bout at East Chicago, Indiana. The lightweight champion slaughtered a palpably frightened Moran with nearly every punch in the pugilistic category, while a "howling mob" yelled for a knockout. The photo shows Leonard landing a stiff left on Moran's face during the eighth round.

SHANGHAI TRACK SCENE OF EXTRA MEET TOMORROW

Promising Program Of Racing Provided By Club For Members And Public

Another large and brilliant assemblage of race-goers is expected to gather at the Shanghai Course tomorrow afternoon, when the Race Club will offer its sixth extra meeting for the entertainment of its members, guests and friends.

The program of events includes a hurdle race, a steeple-chase, two handicaps and four other races; and the indications are that the fields of starters will be unusually large and representative.

The prospective big crowd will miss the presence, amongst the riders, of Mr. William Hill, who is reported to have gone to Hankow to participate in the three-day meet which starts in that city on Tuesday next.

Most of the other prominent riders, however, will be on hand; and it is expected that some keen sport will result.

A number of recent contenders in the famous "Champions" are amongst the ponies entered for the various events, as are many good "whizzers" which barely failed to qualify for the big race, as well as some high-class timber-toppers and several "good things" from well-known stables.

Fuh-tan Defeats Nanking Teachers

The football eleven of Fuh-tan University yesterday met and defeated, on the Fuh-tan grounds, the team from Nanking Teachers' College.

The score of the game, which was fast and interesting throughout, was 4 goals to 1. The contest was one of those regularly scheduled in the E.C.I.A.A. Championships.

FOOTBALL SEASON FORMALLY OPENS TOMORROW; SEVERAL IMPORTANT GAMES ON CARD

Police Clash With St. Xavier's—Shanghai F. C. Opposes "Recs"—Baptist College vs. Soochow In E.C.I.A.A.—Big Day For Game In United States

By "Whistle"

Some excellent football struggles are scheduled for settlement on local fields tomorrow afternoon, when both the Football Association and the East China Intercollegiate Association will formally inaugurate the 1920 season.

Perhaps the most important of the proposed games is that between St. Xavier's first-string team and the Police, which will take place on the latter's grounds, beginning at 2:45 o'clock.

The following will turn out for the St. Xaviers: W. Garry; P. Oliveiros and E. Schneider; H. Favacho, H. Johnson and F. Wittsuck; F. Gutierrez, G. Silva, J. Silva, F. Reed and H. Mason.

The "Recs," in their first League game of the season, expect to put a strong team in against the Shanghai Football Club on the "Rec" grounds, starting at 3 o'clock.

In the second division of the League, St. Xavier's II will tackle the "Recs" second at Hongkew Park. The following will turn out for the Xaviers 2nd: L. Leitao; W. Favacho and L. Horenstein; V. F. Britto; J. Tordy and J. Lima; H. Collaco; J. Macdonald; T. Aldeguer; C. Passos and V. Favacho. Reserves: A. Sequeira and V. Silva. The "Navy" will oppose the Jewish R. C., at the Widows' Monument grounds; the Rangers will meet the Electricity Dept. (probably at the Race Course), and the International Club will tangle with the Police (2nd), also at the Race Course.

Shanghai College will play its first game of the E. C. I. A. A. season on its own grounds, lining up against Soochow University at 2:00 o'clock. A fast game should result. Mr. C. R. S. Cooper will referee this contest.

NANYANG'S SCHEDULE

Through the courtesy of Mr. E. Kelhofer, of the E. C. I. A. A., THE CHINA PRESS is today able to publish the playing schedule of Nanyang College, supplementing the Association schedules which appeared in these columns some days ago. It reads as follows:

November 27.—Nanyang v. St. John's Univ., at Nanyang.
December 4.—Nanyang v. Soochow Univ., at Soochow.
December 18.—Nanyang v Shanghai Coll., at Nanyang.

AMERICAN GAMES

Many history making games under intercollegiate rules are to be played on American gridirons tomorrow afternoon. In the East, Yale opposes Harvard at New Haven; Columbia and Pennsylvania are due to clash at the Polo Grounds (New York); Lafayette and Lehigh meet at Easton in their annual classic; Dartmouth tangles with Brown in Boston; and Carnegie Tech. lines up against W. and J. at Pittsburgh.

In the Middle West Chicago plays Wisconsin on Marshall Field (Chicago); Illinois meets Ohio State at Urbana (Illa); Minnesota plays Michigan at Minneapolis; and Iowa plays Iowa State at Ames.

California and Stanford will provide the piece de resistance on the Pacific Coast, at Berkeley. Oregon clashes with the Oregon Aggies; Occidental plays Pomona; and Redlands plays California Tech at Redlands.

In the South Georgia Tech will encounter Alabama at Atlanta; Tennessee plays Mississippi at Memphis; and Center College opposes Virginia Polytechnic at Louisville.

Johnson Threatens New Baseball War

Kansas City, November 9.—President Ban B. Johnson of the American League and the owners of the five clubs which have not joined the new merger have declared war and say they will fight to a finish against the formation of the new 12-club league.

President Johnson declared that clubs will be established in Chicago, Boston and New York next season to take the places of the three clubs which have joined the new National League.

Shanghai Bowlers Win In Scotland

Lawn bowlers, says the South China Morning Post of November 13, will be interested to know that a rink consisting entirely of engineers well-known in Hongkong and Shanghai, met and defeated the selected rink of the Dundee Bowling Club in September by the narrow margin of one point.

The match was organised by Messrs. W. S. Campbell and J. Ross, both of whom are on home leave from the East, and the game was fiercely contested, as the score indicates.

Dundee held the lead all the way up to the 17th end, when they got on to the fatal 13 mark, the score then reading 13-10 in the homesters' favor.

At this stage the visitors secured four singles in succession and managed to snatch the victory by 14 points to 13.

The team representing Shanghai was: J. Ross (skip), (chief engineer str. Kwangtah), J. McBain (late chief of the Revenue Cruiser Liuhsing), W. S. Campbell (Walter Dunn and Co.), and A. Ross (late China Merchants).

assault and lost an opportunity to win by a knockout.

Ledoux was also in trouble in the third, fourth and fifth rounds when Sharkey ripped left hooks to the stomach and followed with flurries of rights and lefts to the face which rocked his rival. Ledoux weathered the storm, however, and sought feebly and ineffectively to retaliate. Sharkey tired from his earlier efforts in the next three rounds, but Ledoux was too tired to assume the offensive when his rival let up for a spell.

Through the next six sessions Sharkey worked tirelessly to the stomach and face with both hands, but could not connect with a decisive blow. In the final session both slammed away with both hands in a frenzied exchange which brought the crowd to its feet. Near the end of the round Sharkey missed badly, while Ledoux countered with stiff blows to the stomach and jaw.

Russian Volunteer Fleet.

Steamship

"SIMBIRSK."

THE Board of Directors of the Russian Volunteer Fleet hereby states that the steamship "SIMBIRSK" which left the Harbour of Nagasaki on November 1st has been seized by her dismissed master, P. Milovzoroff, and placed by him with Nicholas Fedoroff, formerly the Agent at Tsuruga.

The authentic ship's documents of the "SIMBIRSK" in possession of the Russian Volunteer Fleet Head Office, namely, the Certificate of Nationality and the Certificate of Tonnage and Registry, delivered by the competent authorities of the former Russian Imperial Government, all dated Vladivostok March 24th, 1911, were not in the hands of Milovzoroff at the time he perpetrated the seizure of the steamer, and are held by the Vladivostok Department of Trade of the Far Eastern Russian Provisional Government.

Under such circumstances the Board of Directors announces:

(1) That in view of the fact that the original effective documents of s.s. "SIMBIRSK" are in existence, and not lost, any copies of these documents substituted elsewhere abroad are null and void as being fixed for the purpose of providing illegitimate protection to persons who are fraudulently in possession of the s.s. "SIMBIRSK."

(2) That the Harbour and Customs Authorities of all ports at which the s.s. "SIMBIRSK" may call are hereby warned that the navigation and trade of s.s. "SIMBIRSK" without proper registry documents is illegal and

(3) That the Russian Volunteer Fleet will not be responsible for the transactions entered into in their name by the master of the s.s. "SIMBIRSK," N. Fedoroff, or other persons.

The attention of Insurance Companies, Shippers, Contractors and Passengers is expressly drawn to the above warning, as the obligations of any master of the s.s. "SIMBIRSK" to any party are not binding, while adequate steps will be taken by the competent Russian Volunteer Fleet administration without delay to make the position of the s.s. "SIMBIRSK" regular.

D. LUKHMANOFF, M.M.
Managing Director,
Russian Volunteer Fleet
Board of Directors.

NO MOTOR BUS TRIPS TO TSINGPU

Proposal To Inaugurate Service Is Opposed And Rejected

The proposal to inaugurate a motor bus service between Shanghai and Tsingpu was defeated at a conference of the members of the gentry of Tsingpu and government representatives yesterday. The conference was called by the officials to ascertain whether or not there would be any opposition locally. None of the promoters attended. The opposition of the people was vigorous.

assault and lost an opportunity to win by a knockout.

Ledoux was also in trouble in the third, fourth and fifth rounds when Sharkey ripped left hooks to the stomach and followed with flurries of rights and lefts to the face which rocked his rival. Ledoux weathered the storm, however, and sought feebly and ineffectively to retaliate. Sharkey tired from his earlier efforts in the next three rounds, but Ledoux was too tired to assume the offensive when his rival let up for a spell.

Through the next six sessions Sharkey worked tirelessly to the stomach and face with both hands, but could not connect with a decisive blow. In the final session both slammed away with both hands in a frenzied exchange which brought the crowd to its feet. Near the end of the round Sharkey missed badly, while Ledoux countered with stiff blows to the stomach and jaw.

Russian Volunteer Fleet.

Steamship

"SIMBIRSK."

THE Board of Directors of the Russian Volunteer Fleet hereby states that the steamship "SIMBIRSK" which left the Harbour of Nagasaki on November 1st has been seized by her dismissed master, P. Milovzoroff, and placed by him with Nicholas Fedoroff, formerly the Agent at Tsuruga.

The authentic ship's documents of the "SIMBIRSK" in possession of the Russian Volunteer Fleet Head Office, namely, the Certificate of Nationality and the Certificate of Tonnage and Registry, delivered by the competent authorities of the former Russian Imperial Government, all dated Vladivostok March 24th, 1911, were not in the hands of Milovzoroff at the time he perpetrated the seizure of the steamer, and are held by the Vladivostok Department of Trade of the Far Eastern Russian Provisional Government.

Under such circumstances the Board of Directors announces:

(1) That in view of the fact that the original effective documents of s.s. "SIMBIRSK" are in existence, and not lost, any copies of these documents substituted elsewhere abroad are null and void as being fixed for the purpose of providing illegitimate protection to persons who are fraudulently in possession of the s.s. "SIMBIRSK."

(2) That the Harbour and Customs Authorities of all ports at which the s.s. "SIMBIRSK" may call are hereby warned that the navigation and trade of s.s. "SIMBIRSK" without proper registry documents is illegal and

(3) That the Russian Volunteer Fleet will not be responsible for the transactions entered into in their name by the master of the s.s. "SIMBIRSK," N. Fedoroff, or other persons.

The attention of Insurance Companies, Shippers, Contractors and Passengers is expressly drawn to the above warning, as the obligations of any master of the s.s. "SIMBIRSK" to any party are not binding, while adequate steps will be taken by the competent Russian Volunteer Fleet administration without delay to make the position of the s.s. "SIMBIRSK" regular.

Freight Situation

Messrs. Wheelock and Co. write as follows in their report dated November 18:

The situation in our outward freight markets is as follows:

To United Kingdom and Continent.—This market has been decidedly firmer since we last wrote. There has been a strong demand for space for sesamum seeds to North Continental Ports and for beans and peas to Liverpool and Glasgow while other commodities are also offering in fair quantities, altogether, we should say that the market is in a more healthy state than it has been since last spring.

To United States via Pacific and via Panama and Suez.—There is no change to report on either of these berths since last writing and except for some special shipments going forward by mail-boat to Vancouver there is no general cargo offering worth speaking about.

Coastwise.—This market has been quiet in the interval and except that there is a slight "rush" on from Newchwang owing to the near approach of the closing of the port, which is expected about the 25th inst.,—there is not much doing on the coast.

Coal Market

In their report dated November 18, Messrs. Wheelock and Co. write as follows:

Japan Coal.—Since last writing negotiations have been going on with regard to next year's contracts but the continual downward trend of exchange during the past few weeks has made it very difficult for sellers to fix a price forward which will cover the whole of the year but, in any case, it is expected that something definite will have to be settled during the course of the next few days.

In Japan the coal market is somewhat easier but not enough to compensate for the recent fall in exchange.

Fushun Coal.—No change.

Kaiping Coal.—There is nothing new of general interest to report but we may expect to remark on the question of next year's prices in our next report.

The Allies And Russia

WE have received the following interesting letter in reply to our editorial of yesterday:

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

"Sir.—I have read with interest your leader in today's issue. Not because it furnished any particular information but merely for the reason that is shows that you, in common with many others, are, if I may be permitted the term, suffering from the general lack of facts regarding Siberia, for having no knowledge of the present situation in European Russia other than second hand. I will not venture any opinion save to say that most really well informed persons with the knowledge born of personal contact with and understanding—as far as this is possible—of the European Russian Bolsheviki, are more or less sure that the internal condition of the Soviet Government is such as to render any idea of 'conquest' in fields outside their own great borders out of the question.

"No one knowing anything of the gallant stand made by General Wrangel can fail to regret the ill advice that actuated the Allies to give him such half hearted and so called moral support, and therefore, when it is a question of affairs Russian, most demoralising support; of the same order that brought about the fall and death of Admiral Kolchak and so successfully reduced the prestige of all the Allies concerned in Siberia.

"Whatever one's personal views on the subject of Japan may be, (and, in parenthesis, we can hardly blame any nation for pursuing an aggressive policy when such policy is, if not encouraged, certainly tolerated by certain of the Powers) there is no question that in Siberia Japan has earned the right to a definite say in the present state of affairs. During the year 1918 when without the slightest doubt Vladivostok was threatened with an overwhelming Bolshevik rising, it was the Japanese and Czech troops that effectually quelled the dangerous movement and it may be added that it is the Japanese who have since that time consistently been the guardians of the peace and incidentally the lives and property of British and American and numerous European residents.

"One does not go so far as to say that all the actions of Japan in Siberia or Manchuria have been characterised by high and lofty motives for many very reprehensible things have been and are being done under the excuse of circumstances demanding drastic action—action which some of us who have been for any length of time in Siberia know full well has to be drastic to be effective.

"The Allies had for some time many men in Siberia from Vladivostok to the trans-Ural Ekaterinburg, but with the exception of Japan no one lifted a finger to improve conditions much less materially to assist in combating the Bolsheviki. Indeed it was stated by one of the best informed representatives of a Great Power that the presence and practices of the Allies in Siberia constituted the most effective Bolshevist propaganda. A statement that has proved too true.

"Vladivostok offered excellent scope for an object lesson to the disgruntled Russian. The Allies had most efficient sanitary, electrical and civil engineers who would have quickly made of Vladivostok an example, testifying to the benefits to be derived from co-operative work. But it was left to the Japanese to take the initiative and indeed it was they who were responsible for what was done in the way of policing the town and generally keeping things in working order. Wherever Japanese troops have been something has been accomplished toward a better state of affairs, even if this better state only meant cleaner streets. Unfortunately this is more than can be said of any others of the Allies.

"To sum the whole position up. So far as the claims of Japan to a say in the government and running of that part of Siberia they have occupied and protected is concerned, it is frankly admitted that dirty work had to be done in that country and with the exception of Japan no one seemed to be willing (or had the moral courage) to do it.

"Not one of the Allies went into the Siberian field with a disinterested motive—at least from my knowledge of the various movements since 1918 and up to April, 1920 goes—every one of them had his "pound of flesh" theoretically weighed out over against the day of success. So it is rather savoring of the hypocrite to criticise the actions of a nation which after all has done what the others could not or, I should say, would not attempt.

"Yours truly,
"ONLOOKER."

We are inclined to think that "Onlooker" has to some extent misread the editorial in question. We indicated, or attempted to indicate, the improbability of a drive by the Red armies towards India, and balanced against this the probability of a drive in Siberia to evict the Japanese. From the standpoint of Lenin and Trotsky, a war to turn the Japanese out of Siberia would be good politics. No Russian, we dare say, desires to see the the Japanese remain in Siberia. On the other hand any attempt at military conquest abroad would serve only to weaken the Moscow government.

Coming to the second paragraph of our correspondent's letter, we have no doubt that many of our readers will agree with him in regretting that the Allies did not give Wrangel more powerful support. But, how could they? The people of Great Britain, Italy and the United States are against making war on the Soviet Government and have plainly indicated their regret over the mistaken policy that first led the Allies to interfere with the internal affairs of the Russian people. France and Japan have more irons in the fire than the others, but neither is in a position to make war on Russia. And if they were to do so, they would merely strengthen the Soviet cause. In fact the first Allied invasion of Russia had that exact effect.

We neither favor nor fear Bolshevism. Our contention all along has been that if the rest of us merely keep our hands out of the pot, the Russians will settle down to some form of orderly government. And that whatever form it takes, if it suits them they are entitled to have it. And if it doesn't suit them they will change it.

With our correspondent's third paragraph we do not agree at all. Japan has earned no right to anything in Siberia. She merely invaded Siberia along with the rest of the Allies, and then refused to get out when the others got out.

The rest of the letter we have quoted does not call for special comment, except in this, that, in our opinion most of the situations complained of would not have eventuated if the Allies had stayed out of Siberia. And the fact remains that the Allied governments pulled out when they found that they had made a mistake and also found that their own peoples would not support them in it. That is, all except Japan: and in this connection it may be added that a very influential section of the Japanese people is now and has been for a long time, demanding that the Japanese troops be recalled.

Does our correspondent contend that the Allies ought to fall upon the stricken Russian people full force and give them the sort of government the Allies think they ought to have, or does he think that the Russian people ought to be allowed to set up the sort of government they themselves want?

"America holds third place with 2264," in the official census just published. This, however, was before "The Belle of New York" struck our burg, where she is "The Subject of all the Town talk." Everyone is "following on" to the Lyceum. If as many follow from America then the Japs will have to drop a peg.

Then, click! you've got the cat by the back of the neck so that it can't scratch you. When the cat has struggled enough and discovered that it can't get away, and been tickled behind the ear, she'll sit on your lap and purr. FROM ADAM TO JIGGS

The many history books that are nowadays hurled at unoffending youngsters are so mixed up, especially the chapter on "Modern Politics" that I feel called upon—by myself—to write yet another history—a pithy one, and arranged in alphabetic order. You can buy the book for—as a matter of fact it is being given away as a wrapper. An extract or three:

Adam. First man, took a bite out of an apple and got the pip.

Noah. Famous financier. Floated a limited company when the rest of the world was in liquidation.

Napoleon. Tried to conquer the world but got it in the Boney Part.

Wilhelm. Also tried. Ex-Kaiser of Germany. In the wholesale war trade. Born—only once. Lost the war with the help of the Allies.

Caesar. Famous Roman Soldier. Was in the conquering business. Visited England. Was stabbed to death by Brutus. Still dead.

John. Signed Magna Charta. Other famous Johns, John Haig and Johnny Walker.

Washington. Well known American. Gave his name, before July 1, 1918, to a certain brand of cocktail. That's why he cut down the cherry tree.

Little Willie. The less said about this chap the better.

Worldwide Crime Wave Raging

Three Expert Viewpoints On Cause—Linked With War—Lesser Offenses Fewer

BY WILLIAM L. CHENERY
(New York Times)

The world seems to be in the midst of a wave of violent crime. The war, say the authorities, broke down respect for law and custom. The result is an orgy of lawlessness. Strangely enough, this seems to be accompanied in places by a diminution of minor offenses. On the whole, crime seems thus paradoxically to be decreasing while the more desperate outbreaks appear to be more numerous.

What are the facts? Is this wide-spread impression confirmed by inquiry? If so, what is the explanation? In an effort to ascertain the facts here presented and to understand the causes at work various experts were consulted. William J. Burns, the famous detective; Dr. Bernard Glueck, formerly director of the psychiatric clinic at Sing Sing; Dr. O. F. Lewis, Secretary of the Prison Association of New York, and Charles F. Rattigan, Superintendent of the Prison Department of the State of New York, were among those who gave opinions and data.

The opinions of experts were curiously alike. Detective, psychologist and reformer agreed that crimes of violence—the kind of crime which reaches public attention—have gravely increased. The explanations of this phenomenon were strikingly similar. On the other hand, the figures given by Mr. Rattigan and others showed a remarkable decrease in the total volume of crime.

BURNS LINKS WAVE TO WAR

The best known untangler of the mysteries of crime in this country is William J. Burns. As the head of a national detective agency Mr. Burns has a business interest in keeping closely in touch with the facts. He watches the rise and fall of crime as a broker observes the movement of stocks. He knows the technique of crime and the classes which are likely to produce trouble. His agents send in reports of what they see and hear. Thus his observations ought to be peculiarly close to the facts. Said he:

"There is no doubt that we are in the midst of a crime wave. Many reasons explain this, but of all I think that the effects of the war are most important. Every war, so far as I know history, has been followed by a wave of crime. In the nature of things this should be so. Think of the elemental facts.

"During war the customary respect for the sanctity of human life breaks down. Men have to kill. They become accustomed to taking human life. The horror at killing which is implanted deeply in all normal men, as a result of war becomes less of a restraining influence. All are not affected that way. It is fortunate for the human race that they are not. But some are. So when the war is over and legalised fighting is done and the armies are demobilised, some men extremely dangerous to society are turned loose.

"Now, what has happened to them? In the first place they have been torn loose from their familiar surroundings. The restraining power of family life, of the church and of society is weakened. In the army many have been accustomed to having everything provided for them. Out of the army, once more they must provide for themselves. Some of them do not find this easy. Others are unwilling to submit to the routine of work. They crave excitement, and often they have not the money to pay for it. Naturally they are the crowd from which the new criminals are drafted.

"Robbery seems to offer a facile solution for their difficulties. Robbery is a dangerous trade. The highwayman's life is risked whenever he attempts to hold up a victim. So it happens that the ruthless disregard for life, a part of the necessary price of war, eventuates in robbery and murder. The viciousness of war has dulled the conscience and stimulated certain appetites.

"At such a time one crime leads to another. Imitation is always a powerful motive among the weak-minded folk who turn to crime. I remember once I had to testify in a counterfeiting case. I was examined in detail. I had to describe the exact methods which the counterfeiter on trial had used. The process was made so plain that we had a small epidemic of counterfeiting. All of the new cases followed the methods which had been described as a result of the lawyers' questions.

"At the present time that trait explains something of the crime wave. One act is committed and numerous others are suggested by it. Some of our men who keep in touch 'with potential thieves' have been reporting remarks that were made in their presence. The slick crowd has been much impressed with a certain bond thief who is supposed to have gotten away with millions. 'When I get mine I am going to break like Nicky' is the comment most frequently reported.

MOST VIOLENT CRIMINALS

"This happens in such a time as this when restraint is breaking down. When the customary influences are weakened there is no limit to crime. Environment, I judge, accounts generally for 90 percent of the crime. It works in two ways. Take some of the gangsters who before the war had always lived as criminals. Members of the old tough gangs got into the army. The discipline and the new life was the making of them. Many came out new men. They intended and they are leading lives of honesty. They are no longer dangerous. Others, on the other hand, who had been safe because of the environment in which they lived, have been rendered menaces.

"In my experience a very large proportion of the violent criminals are weak-minded. Something is wrong in the head. But with such, environment and general conditions are the determining influence. If it is easier for them to obey the law, they do so. That, fundamentally, is the reason that crime comes in waves. Social conditions change. During times of depression or of readjustment it becomes more difficult to earn an honest living. Consequently periods of panic are marked by outbursts of crime. The after years of war operate in the same manner. For three years now major crime has been on the increase."

"Violence in labor struggles is very much less frequent than it used to be," Mr. Burns said, after a deliberate pause which gave emphasis to his statement.

"The reason is that arbitration is used so much more generally. An organised instrumentality exists through which workingmen can deal with management. They are able to state their views. Consequently, the energy which used to be expended in violence is directed to more useful channels. Another reason is the power of public opinion. Both labor and employers know now that in the end public opinion will rule and public opinion is against violence."

SOFT-HEARTED BURGLAR

The approach of Dr. Bernard Glueck is different from that of William J. Burns. As a psychiatrist Dr. Glueck is concerned to understand the secret workings of the human mind which sent one man to prison and another to success. He is a student of the hidden springs of conduct. At Sing Sing he studied and tested large numbers of convicted criminals. His general impressions, however, are similar to those of Mr. Burns. He said:

"Although figures may show that the total number of crimes are fewer now, there is no doubt, I think, but that crimes of violence are more frequent. Criminals are, furthermore, more careless of human life. In the past I have known burglars who would rather starve than hurt any one. It is true that they had their own rather peculiar philosophy of property. They lived by stealing, but some I have known would not carry guns when plying their trade. They feared that in an emergency they might kill some one. I do not think that burglars have that point of view so commonly now.

"The war caused a change. Because of the experiences of war there is a tendency to transvaluate the seriousness of crime. War gave killing its sanction. War approved the breaking down of inhibitions which youth needed for self-control. Naturally, therefore, crimes of violence became more common when men who had been habituated to these new rules of conduct were returned to society. Very young men have been accustomed to the sight of suffering and of death. It would be entirely natural for some who exhibited heroic qualities on the battlefield to become criminal when war ended.

"I would also very cautiously suggest that prohibition may have two differing effects on the crime situation. Undoubtedly prohibition has reduced minor offenses. On the other hand, it may result temporarily in an increase in more serious crime. The reason as I see it is this: When men drank some of them expressed anti-social instincts in carousal, in drunkenness. This type of man is suddenly deprived of his ordinary mode of expression, and some will probably express their instincts in definitely anti-social acts in crime. This is a matter of adjustment which requires time.

"In view, however, of the tendency to greater daring in crime, a tendency which is a part of the necessary price of war, I would call attention to the public necessity of knowing the criminal actor as well as the criminal act. That is essential if progress is to be made in dealing with evil conditions. On the whole, I should say that now prison keepers, men on the inside of prisons, are very much more intelligent about treating crime than are men in the jury box, on the bench or in society in general.

"The outside view is something like retaliation for the outrage done the majesty of the law. Prison keepers, however, incline to the view that punishment is intended to reform, to make the man who committed a criminal act safe in the future. The tendency in all of us is to punish the thing most severely which in our heart of hearts we fear that we would be most likely to do. For that reason when an atrocious crime is committed our first impulse is to eliminate the crime and the criminal from view. Get both out of sight is our instinct. It goes back to the general feeling, uttered by the religious teacher on seeing a condemned criminal. 'But for the grace of God, there am I.'"

CRIME WAVE TO PASS

The practical question is "What is to be done about it?" Dr. Glueck has an answer. As to the immediate matter of the increase in violent crime, he said: "I don't think that the mores—the fundamental customs—of people have been changed by war, and so I do not think that the existing reverberation of violent crime is anything more than a transitory symptom. It will pass as men readjust to normal life." Concerning the permanent problem New York has moreover already made a constructive beginning. At Sing Sing this State is building the most interesting type of prison to be found anywhere." When the new prison is completed, he pointed out, facilities will be available for the study, classification and distribution of all of those convicted of serious crimes in New York. Complete mental and physical examinations will be made of all sent to Sing Sing. In that way knowledge of the individuals who commit crimes will be obtained. Out of such study genuine information as to the causes of criminal conduct ought to be secured. On the groundwork of such data crime may be decreased to an irreducible minimum.

Dr. Glueck thinks also that the morale-making agencies, the Y. M. C. A., the Knights of Columbus, and the Jewish Welfare Board workers, whose success in the army was signal, might be very useful in dealing with prisoners. The psychiatrist observed at Sing Sing that few chronic criminals know how to amuse themselves except in anti-social ways. Men with great ingenuity in obtaining money wrongfully have no idea of a good time except that which can be found in gambling and in debauchery. Either through their own fault or through that of society they have not learned to express their play instincts in healthful or safe fashion. Consequently the men and women who became experts in recreation during the war might find a useful outlet for their talents in teaching criminals how to substitute normal pleasures for abnormal excitement.

CHILDREN EGOISTIC

The big task of preventing crime goes back to care for young children, for practical men and psychologists seem to be agreed that the origin of crime is to be found near the line of infancy. On this point Dr. Glueck remarked: "If school and home do not provide kids with the thrill of success during the first ten years of life, children can be relied upon to find what they crave in a socially destructive way. There is the beginning of crime. But, unfortunately, as schools are now arranged a conventional failure is more welcome than a troublesome success. Children are egoistic. The child must express his ego in some way, while the school wants to suppress him. But he is going to break through the western front on some sector. If he has the opportunity his ego will break through in normal play. Denied that and he is apt to get into trouble."

The work and the experience of the Prison Association of New York has led Dr. O. F. Lewis to kindred observations and conclusions. Dr. Lewis spoke first of two contrary tendencies in the present crime situation. He said:

MINOR OFFENSES DECREASE

"Criminal statistics are unsatisfactory in this country, but there are straws which indicate the direction of the current. First of all, minor offenses are decreasing. Of that there is no doubt. Our Traveling Secretary, A. D. Moir, has just completed a tour of the State. The jail population has been reduced to the lowest terms. Practically everywhere he found a decreased jail population. At Kingston the jail was empty. At Catskill the same thing was true. In other places the number of county prisoners has been reduced by half and more. In some communities in New York and elsewhere authorities are talking of closing the jails. Prohibition and high wages with plentiful work probably explain this."

A complete answer to the question as to whether crime is increasing or decreasing is difficult to obtain. A national census would be necessary to elicit the full story. Some of the obtainable records are, however, enlightening. Figures, it has been observed, sometimes lie. Perhaps the prison figures of New York are no better than statistics in general. However that may be, the following are in themselves interesting.

Charles F. Rattigan, Superintendent of the prison department of New York, has supervision over the four State prisons—Sing Sing, Auburn, Clinton and Great Meadows. In compliance with a request he gave the census of these prisons on specific days during five years. The population was as follows:

June 30, 1916	5,486
„ 30, 1917	4,509
„ 30, 1918	4,274
„ 30, 1919	3,967
„ 27, 1920	3,867

The men and women in these prisons are it should be remembered, criminals convicted of serious crimes. So far as the sum total of important crime is concerned they do tell the drift. Plainly crime as a whole is not increasing in this State. On the contrary it is decreasing and it has been decreasing steadily for five years. In June last it reached the lowest point. The wave seems to have been receding rather than rising. If instead of serious crimes minor offenses—misdemeanors—are considered the drift is still more striking.

A report such as that Mr. Rattigan has made is an encouraging social symptom, especially since it is fortified by similar accountings from other agencies. Thus the Prison Association obtained the following census of population in penal institutions from the State authorities:

	1917	1918	1919
Prisons	4,509	4,274	3,967
Reformatories for men	954	902	1,008
Reformatories for women	702	560	518
Penitentiaries	1,920	793	794
County jails	1,630	1,184	1,029
N. Y. City institutions	5,282	4,044	3,700
Total	14,997	11,757	11,016

SEEKING A SOLUTION

What is to be done about it? Probably nothing very soon. For crime is the reminder of something which has happened years previously. Crime is the explosion, but the thing which rendered possible the disaster is ordinarily out of sight and forgotten. New York is today rearing children who five, ten, fifteen and twenty years from now will compose the mob out of which dangerous criminals emerge. The world over the poorest and socially weakest classes produce criminals. Wherever the facts are searched, as for example by Professor Bonger, it is seen that 80 percent of crime and more comes from the groups whch are economically at the bottom of the ladder. The poor have too few outlets for normal energies, too few chances. Therefore the children of the poor are the material from which the mass of criminals are drawn.

Whoever desires to watch the process, to understand how children of endless possibilities, for good and evil, are from the beginning exposed to vitiating influences, has, if he lives on Manhattan Island, only to walk a few blocks from his own comfortable home. On almost any street in any crowded section of this city the school of crime is constantly in session. In many places children learn to gamble on the streets almost by the time they learn to talk. Gang fighting is another elementary lesson, and anti-social stunts—trespassing or petty stealing—afford often the only excitement available. The fact that the cop may come only adds a thrill. But usually the cop, being a wise man, doesn't intrude within a block and a half of the Grand Central Station. I have seen grown men throwing dice in the street and exchanging dollar bills as fortune wavered. A good-looking gang it was, too, it may be added. But that is the way of life which leads to crime.

Everybody who thinks at all about the situation knows this, but the tendencies of the time are too powerful to permit the growth of better conditions. Other objectives are more important than the development of a healthy race. And so we have our crime wave. When society gets around to it, the process can be stopped. Given play and a decent environment and crime goes down to the irreducible minimum for which the individuals made abnormal by heredity rather than by environment are responsible. Even now ventures such as the Boy Scout movement or the public parks point the way. During the war the morale-making agencies knew how to keep boys out of trouble. These gave and give the opportunity for interesting recreation and activities dangerous to the individual and to society were less sought.

The war's psychological aftermath is the big obvious stimulant behind the present outbreak. Prohibition and high wages seem to be the restraining influences. But the crime problem is not transitory and while it is made more or less intense by unfavorable and favorable influences, at the bottom it remains a permanent responsibility for the entire community and nation. When we are more civilised a crime wave will cause society to regard itself quite as anxiously as it now does its criminals. For in the last analysis the bulk of crime is a witness to social neglect or maladjustment. When that is remedied it will be much easier to manage the residuum who in the best of all possible worlds would go wrong.
